The Transparency International Secretariat (TI-S) in Berlin is seeking freelancers for video production and edition. Video is essential in our anticorruption campaigning and advocacy work to connect with people and decision makers. It is also an essential tool for us to engage our audiences and communicate our impact. We are often in need of producing videos or professional editing for interviews, short documentaries, and other materials. The typical channels for distribution include our social media channels and our website. These videos are also shared and promoted by our chapters across the globe.

- Gathering or editing footage with fresh, clear, and modern style in line with our visual and brand guidelines
- Basic motion design
- Conveying Transparency International's messages through relatable and compelling storytelling
- Coordinating with the TI-S Communications Department on messaging, scriptwriting, storyboarding, etc.
- Understanding diverse cultural contexts
- In some cases, it will involve shooting interviews with TI staff and chapter staff
